■ Hunters Point Naval Shipyard (R9/CA): EPA Region 9 staff provided an overview of the Hunters Point Superfund site on a February 11 conference call with staff from the San Francisco office of Sen. Kamala Harris (D-CA). EPA described the agency's oversight role and outlined its work with the Navy and State/local agencies regarding approval of the Navy's workplan for re-sampling areas with radiation contamination. An update on Hunters Point will also be provided at a February 26 meeting between House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-CA-12) and Regional Administrator Mike Stoker.

Greg

I should have written down your exact words for the Monthly General item. Is it sufficient to say that we are working with the Navy to identify tasks in the work plan that they can start soon while coming to resolution on some of the sampling issues? I can also add the meetings with elected officials.

Do you have much snow? I was so surprised to see at 6 am no white stuff. Snow began to fall at 7 and is pretty steady. TV picture of Capital looks like a lot more there.
